Part 2: Symbol elements, qualifying symbols and other symbols having general application

The European Standard EN 60617-2:1996 has the status of a British Standard

ICS 01.080.30; 29.020

National foreword

This British Standard is the English language version of EN 60617-2:1996. It is identical with IEC 617-2:1996. It supersedes BS 3939-2:1985 which is withdrawn.

The UK participation in its preparation was entrusted to Technical Committee GEL/3, Documentation and graphical symbols, which has the responsibility to:

- aid enquirers to understand the text;
- present to the responsible international/European committee any enquiries on the interpretation, or proposals for change, and keep the UK interests informed;
- monitor related international and European developments and promulgate them in the UK.

Cross-references

The British Standards which implement international or European publications referred to in this document may be found in the BSI Catalogue under the section entitled “International Standards Correspondence Index”.

A British Standard does not purport to include all the necessary provisions of a contract. Users of British Standards are responsible for their correct application.

Compliance with a British Standard does not of itself confer immunity from legal obligations.
