Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 5979 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 45, Rubber and rubber products, and was circulated to the member bodies in January 1981.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Australia	India	Romania
Austria	Italy	South Africa, Rep. of
Belgium	Korea, Dem. P. Rep. of	Spain
Brazil	Korea, Rep. of	Sri Lanka
Canada	Mexico	Sweden
China	Netherlands	Thailand
Czechoslovakia	Philippines	United Kingdom
