Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 7591 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 22, Road vehicles, and was circulated to the member bodies in April 1981.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Austria	Iraq	Romania
Brazil	Italy	Spain
China	Japan	Sweden
Czechoslovakia	Korea, Rep. of	Switzerland
Egypt, Arab Rep. of	Netherlands	United Kingdom
Germany, F.R.	New Zealand	USA
Iran	Poland	USSR

The member bodies of the following countries expressed disapproval of the document on technical grounds :

Belgium
France
